

Tricia Hazelwood

Tricia Hazelwood is the Head of Global Markets Americas and joined UBS in August 2023. Tricia is a member of the Global Markets Management Committee and Chair of the Global Markets Americas Management Committee.

Before joining UBS, Tricia spent over 10 years at MUFG where she developed and led the firm's Global Structured Products Business. She was Head of MUFG's USD 60 Billion structure products lending business and also led MUFG Securities' international Structured Products Capital Markets businesses. Within MUFG Securities, Tricia was also a member of the International Management & Risk Committees.

Tricia also spent 16 years at Credit Suisse with her most recent role as Global Head of Asset-Based Securities (ABS), which included the origination and distribution of all USD ABS products. Prior to that, she spent 4 years at Salomon Brothers in the Mergers & Acquisition business area in New York, Sydney and Hong Kong.

Tricia graduated from Flinders University of South Australia with a Bachelor in Economics and Organizational Psychology. Tricia is married with 2 children and is based in New York.